grape variety

A very late-ripening variety, needs warm sites with good air drainage. Clusters are medium-sized, cylindrical with a small side-cluster.

Grapes picked and selected by hand, carefully whole-bunch pressed and slowly fermented in stainless steel tanks, then left to mature on the lees for five months.

///////. ground / cultivation area

Lime-free clay, silt and sand; primary rock soils.

pood attendant

Ideal as an aperitif, or for a summer party, from beginning to end; also great with hearty starters.
